Ellen, can you help us meet this challenge?

Generous donors have offered $15,000, challenging other donors to match their gifts.

As we prepare for the 2023-24 school year, we look at donations accumulated this year to meet financial aid needs for next year. We face a dual challenge. High inflation rates are impacting every corner of the world, including Costa Rica. As nonprofits face rising costs, donations everywhere have fallen off. We fully understand that donors face higher prices, fear of a recession and lower stock market investment values.

We rely on your generosity to help us face higher expenses for next year.

We are committed to keeping our teacher and staff salaries competitive by Costa Rica standards. Among other challenges, our families face an increase in tuition costs so we can provide a cost-of-living increases for teacher salaries. We know our donors are impacted as well. These matching funds mean your gift will go further at this challenging time.

Double your donation by helping to meet our challenge match!
